Tuition/Program Fees

Tuition and fees include the arts and social science tuition charged by the host university for a normal course load. However, universities charge extra tuition if students exceed a normal course load and/or charge a higher tuition for disciplines such as science, engineering and other speciality areas involving laboratory, studio, or field work. Since these extra tuition fees apply to very few students, and are not known until after registration, they are not included in the published program fee. They are billed separately after classes have been in session for several weeks and all enrollments are finalized. In these situations, students will receive an invoice from either The Education Abroad Network or the host institution.

Meals

The cost of meals is not included in the program fees listed above. If a student chooses university housing they will be billed separately for all mandatory meal plans, if applicable. Mandatory meal plan costs range between $950 - $3,000 depending on the number of meals provided each week. Please consult your TEAN Program Manager for information on meal plan availability and costs.

Housing

Participants that opt-out of our pre-arranged housing will not be billed the housing portion of their program fee.

Housing Security deposit

All participants are required to pay a $350 security deposit in addition to the Program Fee. This fee is refundable at the conclusion of the program, less any damages, fines or outstanding debts. Most security deposits actually range in cost from $750 - $1,500 so we fund a large portion of this deposit as a courtesy. This ultimately means less funds you need to pay upfront and the convenience of dealing with a USA based organization for your refund.
